Founder of We Are Unveiled & Next Gen Advisors

Leadership Network is passionate about equipping the body while leading conversations and initiatives facing the Church today. I am so honored to join the team and provide a millennial female perspective. I hope to contribute not only knowledge and experience but passion for women in leadership and the church.

The rise of women in our culture today is at an all time high and it has been beautiful to see so many women break barriers across so many sectors. Yet our culture's narrative has been that 'as woman rise, men must be put down and shamed on our way up.' My heart is to see the women of my generation rise up, but not of this world. I desire that they be rooted and grounded in the truth; united, not divided with the Body of Christ, and women who pull others up with them as they are elevated.
