Leadership  Network Advance

Rashawn Copeland

Founder of Without Walls Ministries / Frontier Creative OKC

What fascinates me the most about Leadership Network is their heart for the local church. I love how they are annually serving thousands of churches through in-person events which has included more than 1,500 leaders. They are all about equipping the body and impacting the next generation. One of my favorite things about Leadership Network is that they invest in the digital space. They have online conferences reaching thousands. I hope to bring my passion for social media and my knowledge of digital marketing to the team.

In a world that is glued to a screen, and fails to keep its eyes fixed on Christ, my hope is to meet them on the screen with the Gospel message. We are currently living in the single largest communication shift since the printing press. My heart is to encourage, equip, and to educate the church on the importance and the power of evangelism through the social media and digital space in the local church. I would like to see more churches engaged and involved with what God is doing through it. The church must bring the truth of God's word where the peoples eyes are fixed. Look no further than social media.
